Summary

Full stack machine learning engineer.

Able to deliver machine learning solutions starting from data collection all the way to exposing the resulting model via APIs deployed in the cloud.

Apart from R (stats, dplyr, tidyr, ggplot2) and Python (scikit-learn, pandas, NumPy, SciPy, matplotlib, bokeh) I have a commercial experience in applying inferential statistics (point estimates, confidence/credible intervals, hypothesis/significance testing, time series analysis) and exploratory data analysis (data wrangling, data visualization).

I also know a thing or two about SQL (MS SQL Server, SQLite), building RESTful APIs, Test Driven Development (unit testing, integration testing), Continuous Integration/Deployment (TeamCity, Jenkins, git, SVN), cloud services (AWS, Azure).

Solid-state physics, PhD study (not complete)

Approximate analytical model of anisotropic coordinate-sensitive radiation detector, comparison to numerical 3D-simulation. With the numerical simulation, a system of second-order nonlinear differential equations was solved taking into account the heats released (absorbed) by eddy thermoelectric currents:
